

John the Baptist

Kay Perez

John the Baptist lived in the wilderness. He wore clothes made of camel hair and ate locust and honey. He preached about the Kingdom of God and told people to repent. He was baptizing people in the Jordan River. Jesus came to him to be baptized. John thought he was not worthy to baptize Jesus. Jesus told him it was to fulfill all righteousness. When Jesus was baptized the Holy Spirit came down as a dove from heaven, and a voice from heaven said, "This is My beloved Son in whom I am well pleased." Story found in Matthew chapter 3.
